Wrath of Kane

Please review as I may need ideas

Things were not as peaceful as they used to be back in the 22nd century a man named his son after a fictional character from a video game called Tiberium Dawn. but this mans son grew up to be an evil man ironically and had inspired a uprising in people, by the 28th century A planet was discovered harboring what has been referred to as the key to to survival and humans had sent many researchers to find out as much as this object, when carbondated what their resaults were, were kinda of minacing. It seemed that this weird gem to existance was an alien artifact more than thirteen million years old, when they did tests on it it still seemed to work. This device was later known as the genises device,

Only to the due note that this device could terraform a planet and seed it with primitive life and animals within a matter of days or even hours sometimes. When humans than scoped this technology for them selves, They became the best terraformers in the universe and utilized this for a new goal for themselves. With the discovery of this artifact the human race split into six fractions, but only four survived they were Kanesh Kin, Dominiks Dyers,

The New Testament, and the cleansers. The four fractions of the human race were at a war of different goals. The New Testaments spreading the word of peace. Dominiks Dyers had the goal to keep a military control over the population to bring it back into submission,

The cleansers to wipe out most of the humans in the galaxy to start again. And Kanesh Kin to control the galaxy, or even the universe. They all had their own followers from different worlds as well though wanting the knowladge that humans had gained for themselves.

Some seen this as a good atempt to spread their empire. But mostly some hated the war and wanted it to end. For some reason other worldly beings did not ever know much about certain elements, like the unstable ones. The first empire to see humans drop a nuke thought that every thing in the galaxy would die from the power they possessed. When the 31st centuary came around and the war of the factions was still raging pretty bad, humans learned how to make bases that were so coheasive to heat they could literally put a base on a star. With that advancement humans were the strongest as far as strategic tech came.

Some aliens did not like this and got involed in what would become the great war or the galactic struggle. Earth had world war 1,2,3,4,5,6,7, and even 8 but this would be known as galaxy wars 1 because it was a galactic scaled war between 123,000 different races but even out of those races, humans were still advanced in stratagies, population, and military tech. By the time of the 43rd century and galaxy wars I still raging humans came into the might of being able to destroy a whole entire solar system at once, with though humans were fools, with the upcoming of this kind of tech, humans killed and raged wars and even almost went extinct because of their behavior and at the begging of the 44th century a galaxy treaty was signed to end war between all races for the next

1,000 years now I'm going to tell you all that happened in the begging from my eyes, because I'm the last one who had to sign the treaty. My race was almost destroyed because of it's foolish decisions and I'm going to tell the story of what happened after in a desperate hope to stop any sentient being from becoming destructive like we did.

When the treaty was signed humans were no longer in factions spread out in military factions, we regained peace but when the treaty was signed I feared some one or something would break the treaty and I was right.

Meh usual me small chapter, but I need people to review and tell me if I should change this story's domain (Starfox for ex or Sailormoon)
